HWY 2017

A NEW WORK PLATFORM FEATURING REHEARSED READINGS, SHOWINGS, WORKSHOPS, MASTERCLASSES, AND FERVENT CONVERSATIONS ABOUT THEATRE PRACTICE – ALL IN REAL TIME.

ARTISTIC DIRECTOR WELCOME

Hello,

Welcome to this year's HWY festival!

It is our pleasure to invite you to join us at La Boite over the next two weeks, for an eclectic array of festival activity. Now in its second year, HWY presents an opportunity to engage with an impressive cross-section of Brisbane's current theatre and performing arts scene.

In 2017 we are proud to present HWY as the new work platform that is encouraging artists to stretch boundaries and take risks and inviting you to enter into a critical discourse around each work. You are the HWY brains trust and our artists' valuable advisers. We hope that these works will find a life well beyond this program, but this is the first, critical step in seeding ideas and developing material for presentation. The festival will inform La Boite's future programming and this is your chance to gain insight, have input and observe this process in action.

HWY is an introduction to La Boite's Artists-in-Residence, associates and assistant creatives. This year, Black Honey Company will present a showing of their latest work, Twelve. Steven Oliver will present the first public reading of his full length play, From Darkness Whence They Came and Digi Youth Arts will present the next iteration of their incredible work with local Indigenous youth, Dislocated. HWY is also an opportunity for us to invite artists and companies we are thinking about and interested in programming to present works and ideas for consideration. In 2017, these artists are Suzie Miller & The Farm, Ben Knapton, Alea Monsour, Jodee Mundy and Essential Media.

HWY also continues to provide access to a suite of professional development opportunities, including workshops and masterclasses in participatory and immersive theatre practice, scenography, physical theatre, producing, sound and composition. These opportunities are intended to provide anyone with a keen interest in a specific field with a chance to develop skills, meet likeminded individuals and further inform their artistic practice under the guidance of established artists. Public talks and forums will also provide a platform for the industry and wider arts community to engage in robust conversation about the future of theatre and our collective power to make change happen, if we want it.

This year we launch the HWY Sessions – free live gigs as part of the festival program, which will activate our newly revamped foyer space and invite you to support some incredible local artists, enjoy the music and keep the conversation going. In the second week of HWY, we are also excited to present The Pitch – an ideas lab featuring six artists who will pitch their ideas live in half hour slots, inviting you to ask questions, open up a dialogue and provide honest feedback – no holds barred.

This is also an opportunity to meet our new Creative Producer, Sanja Simic, who has curated this festival and will be facilitating workshops and events throughout the two weeks. Please introduce yourself to her and all of us, we would love to meet you.

Flip through the 2017 HWY program and take the time to curate your own festival experience. Thank you for joining us, enjoy the ride!

Yours truly,

Todd MacDonald

HWY PERFORMANCE PROGRAM

The HWY Performance Program will showcase a range of new works in development; in the shape of showings, readings, pitches and demonstrations. The 2017 artists all hail from diverse backgrounds, recognised by La Boite for their relevance and potential - this is a snapshot of the future of theatre in this city.

THE MATHEMATICS OF LONGING by Suzie Miller

The Mathematics of Longing juxtaposes the poetics of science and the complexity of modern relationships in a series of theatrical provocations culminating in a play. Physics and Mathematical theorems jostle against the characters and stories they inspire in a nuclear fusion of Art and Science, investigating the infinite complexity of the human heart. Join us for an intriguing adventure into science, math, love and longing.

Presented by La Boite Theatre Company, Gavin Webber and The Farm, and Suzie Miller and The Uncertainty Principle

Cast and creatives: Todd MacDonald, Suzie Miller, Ilai Swindells, Ngoc Phan, and Christen O'Leary.

Format: Rehearsed Reading

JULIET & ROMEO adapted by Mark Rogers

A twenty-first century adaptation of Shakespeare's iconic love story, Mark Rogers' Juliet & Romeo takes no prisoners in its irreverent re-imagining. Two families at war, two teenagers in love - a three day affair that results in six deaths. Did Juliet and Romeo love too much, too hard, too soon? Did their union even stand a chance? And why do we still care? A tragi-comic romance for today.

Juliet & Romeo will be read by 2nd year Bachelor of Fine Arts (Acting) students, directed by Sanja Simic.

Cast: Clementine Anderson, Molly Burnett, Noah Fowler, Morgan Francis, Meg Fraser, Gerick Leota Thomsen, Tatum Mottin, Sianda Stringer, and Tania Vukicevic.

Format: Rehearsed Reading
Where: Roundhouse Theatre
When: Wednesday 14 June 2017
Time: 5:30 - 7:30pm
(including Artist Talk, Performance and Feedback)

FROM DARKNESS WHENCE WE CAME by Steven Oliver

The year is 2016 and a middle class nuclear Indigenous family, complete with one elder, live an unremarkable life in the Australian suburbs. That is, except for the occasional visit from spirits. Unable to communicate with them, the only thing they know for sure is that the spirits are drawn to the teenaged son of the family and that their visits, through dreams, have become more frequent. Things take a turn when the spirits' teachings are revealed: time travel. However, the son is the only one who is permitted to travel and only to the past.

The family toy with the idea of thwarting Captain Cook's landing to prevent the suffering of their people, but there are just two problems; they will cease to exist and it is forbidden. Is this a test? Do they actually want him to go? Will he?

Format: Rehearsed Reading
Where: Roundhouse Theatre
When: Thursday 15 June 2017
Time: 5:30 - 7:30pm
(including Artist Talk, Performance and Feedback)

DISLOCATED by Digi Youth Arts

*I know not the depth of my past
Just what is hidden beneath my skin.
This silent war shall not last,
For me people are this land's kin.*

History never learns from mistakes. Digi Youth Arts' Dislocated takes us into the future; set in 2044 this story unfolds in a fringe suburb cut-off from the rest of Brisbane. This gritty tale follows the journey of a group of youth who must return to the city they have never known in order to survive.

Format: Showing
Where: Roundhouse Theatre
When: Saturday 17 June 2017
Time: 5:30 - 7:30pm
(including Artist Talk, Performance and Feedback)
Price: $12

TWELVE by Black Honey Company

Set in the twelve days and nights after a major flood, Twelve: a Soul musical from the streets, written by Candy Bowers with music by Busty Beatz, is an exploration of love under crisis. Twelve opens up the private moments and honors the communities that grew stronger after sharing in the devastation of natural disasters.

Drawing inspiration from the real-life experiences of the Brisbane flood, Hurricane Sandy in New York, Katrina in New Orleans and the landslides of Hiroshima, Candy Bowers' adaptation of William Shakespeare's tragic-comedy Twelfth Night speaks to what is most human in all of us; connection, hope and friendship.

Format: Showing/Concert
Where: Roundhouse Theatre
When: Monday 19 June 2017
Time: 5:30 - 7:30pm
(including Artist Talk, Performance and Feedback)

HWY WORKSHOPS & MASTERCLASSES

La Boite HWY Workshops & Masterclasses are an opportunity to roll up your sleeves and dig deep in this line-up of intimate and participatory classes designed by industry professionals for the HWY community. This is an opportunity to learn practical skills and further your understanding of theatre-making as a multi-faceted practice. This is the moment to explore unfamiliar territory, meet like-minded individuals and connect with prospective collaborators.

INDEPENDENT PRODUCERS INTENSIVE

A day-long intensive for aspiring independent producers that will explore what it means to produce and manage effectively and creatively. Led by the La Boite artistic team, participants will be engaged in conversations and exercises that explore the role of the producer, development of creative projects, collaborative processes, strategies for marketing work, pitching and programming from one season to the next, grappling with budgets and anything else that we can squeeze into an eight hour day!

Led by Sanja Simic (Creative Producer) with Katherine Hoepper (General Manager) and Todd MacDonald (Artistic Director) from La Boite Theatre Company

Date: Tuesday 13 June 2017
Where: Rehearsal Room
Time: 9am - 5pm
Price: $25

PHYSICAL THEATRE MASTERCLASS: CONSIDERING GROTOWSKI

This masterclass is a unique opportunity for performing artists of all stripes to experience a taste of the Grotowski Method; a physical approach to generating devised work that focuses on the performing body in space. Led by Brisbane's Alex Ferrero, performers will explore a specific approach to voice, impulse and action as an ensemble of theatre makers.

Led by Alexander Ferrero (Actor)

HWY CONVERSATIONS

The HWY Conversations are an opportunity to explore the ideas, processes and politics behind the works in this year's festival. Seize the opportunity to deepen your engagement with the works, meet the artists, exchange thoughts and ideas, ask questions and have your say!

LET US BE BLAK: Interrogations into creative process

A panel discussion that invites some of the country's leading artists to share past experiences and discuss strategies for establishing safe and comfortable spaces in which to make work as Indigenous Australians. Taking their respective forms and practices into consideration, panelists will delve into specific processes for seeding ideas, choosing collaborators and identifying preferred methodologies for making culturally-informed theatre.

Facilitated by Dr Sandra Phillips (QUT) with Alethea Beetson (Artistic Director, Digi Youth Arts), Steven Oliver (Black Comedy), and Bjorn Stewart (Cope St, Black Comedy, Coranderrk).

Date: Wednesday 14 June 2017
Where: Roundhouse Theatre
Time: 3 - 5pm

CONSIDERING IDENTITY: Deconstructing 'Australian-ness' through form

What does it mean to identify as 'Australian' in 2017, and how does an individual's identity inform their artistic practice? A diverse panel of practitioners converge in an attempt to answer these questions and discuss ideas around the written form, the framing of identity and pulling apart a singular notion of what it means to be Australian today.

Panel members include Roger Monk (Development Producer, Essential Media) and Ngoc Phan (The Village, A Streetcar Named Desire), Alethea Beetson (Artistic Director, Digi Youth Arts), and Candy Bowers (Twelve, One the Bear). Facilitated by Bec Mac.

Date: Saturday 17 June 2017
Where: Roundhouse Theatre
Time: 12 - 2pm
Price: FREE

ACCESS ALL AREAS: Making work with, for and about artists with disability

A panel of artists and industry professionals working in the arts and disability sector will enter into a wide ranging conversation about work by artists who identify as disabled. Through conversation and discussion about practice, pathways, platforms and possibilities, the panel will reflect on specific processes for making work with and for individuals with diverse needs.

Panel members include Jodee Mundy (Artist)

Date: Thursday 22 June 2017
Where: Roundhouse Theatre
Time: 6 - 8pm
Price: FREE

ARTIST TALKS AND FEEDBACK
